Press Release

Amateur Radio License Classes at Martin County Public Safety Complex

Classes to get your FCC license begin July 27, 2013

Stuart, FL, July 27, 2013: Learn how you can assist your community during hurricanes and other disasters as a volunteer Emergency Communicator. This Class can be the gateway to the exciting world of Amateur Radio. Students of all ages are welcome.

On 27 July the Martin County Amateur Radio Emergency Service (MC-ARES) and Martin County Amateur Radio Association (MCARA) jointly sponsor free Amateur Radio Licensing classes for the entry level Technician Class FCC License. While the classes are free, it is highly recommend to have a License Study Guide, which is available at the class on a cost donation basis of $25.00, the testing sitting fee, including FCC required costs is $15.00

The Introductory Session; explanation of how course will proceed; and schedule of events session is on 27 July from 10am-1pm at 800 SE Monterey Road at the Martin County Public Safety Complex Room 225B, in Stuart Florida.

The class format relies on Assigned Mentors for self study sessions and online practice exams leading up to the testing session on 17 August, 2013. Prior to the testing session there will be a Review and Question session with Course Mentors from 9 am to 1 pm, a Final Review from 1 to 2 pm and at 2 pm the Exam Session begins.

There are over 700,000 FCC licensed Amateur Radio operators in the USA, and more than 2.5 million around the world. Through local clubs participating in the ARES program, ham volunteers provide emergency communications for thousands of state and local emergency response agencies, all for free.
